8 pages is a firm limit for the size of the paper!

The papers will be reviewed by two members of the SEFI Scientific committee according to their specialities as it is done each year.

Best regards

Subject: SEFI 2015 Process Question

Anne-Marie:

I am looking forward to visiting France this summer and presenting a paper at SEFI2015. My coauthors and I have completed a first draft of the paper and two questions have been asked that I cannot answer.

- 1) Is the 8 page limit a firm limit or would a slightly longer paper of 10 pages be acceptable?
- 2) What are the criteria for the peer review process? As you would expect, we are making every effort to ensure that the paper is technically accurate and discusses the issues described in the abstract impartially. We are concerned about the paper submission site which says:

"The Acceptance of your abstract does not guarantee acceptance of your Full Paper. Full Papers are peer reviewed and the final decision of paper acceptance will be made on the basis of this Full Paper review. "

I would be disappointed if our paper were not accepted for reasons that could have been addresses in advance.

Thank you for your assistance with these clarifications

Wayne H. Coste, PE
